REASONS TO TRUST INGENUITI for Your Next Learning Initiative

01 Well-honed Training Expertise and Proven Results

Ingenuiti has been working in the corporate learning space since 2002. Since 2015 alone we have completed over 1,600 learning projects. We pride ourselves on being learning problem solvers bringing unbiased, expert advice to help you solve your most pressing learning challenges. We have helped clients condense training seat time by up to 4:1, reduce training related costs by up to 50% and greater, and increase speed to competence by over 33%.

02 Globalization Capabilities

Ingenuiti has a 30-year track record translating and localizing a wide range of material for international audiences. We have a pool of approximately 3,000 linguists and can translate into 120+ languages. Whether you are training international employees, contractors, or distributors you can count on Ingenuiti to create highly effective localized versions of your courseware in any modality.

03 Technical Aptitude

Ingenuiti is known for its tech savvy approach to learning. Our deep bench features eLearning, software, and app developers along with 3D video and animation experts and graphics design specialists. While we don't pre-prescribe solutions, when clients need a technologically progressive partner to assist, they have come to find that Ingenuiti offers both innovation and reliability.

04 ISO-certification

Ingenuiti adheres to rigorous quality standards and maintains ISO certification in three areas. This gives you the peace of mind that your learning project will be delivered on-time, on-quality, and on-budget.

05 One Stop Shop

Whether your needs are small and tactical or large and complex Ingenuiti is well-equipped to handle them. With sound technical proficiency we will work in the tools and technologies on which you are standardized. Our capabilities are not limited by industry, audience, content, or modality. We are just as comfortable developing a traditional instructor-led training course as we are creating a responsive designed eLearning course with augmented reality components. Best yet, when it comes to globalizing your training materials, we handle all that as well under one roof.
