

Build a Better Workplace With Bridge

Develop people-first managers, identify skills gaps, align team communication, and measure employee engagement with Bridge's suite of employee development tools.

Here's what Bridge can do for you:

Make Your Managers Better Leaders

Studies show that when people leave companies, it's typically due to disconnection with their manager. Bridge can give managers a platform with which they can better communicate, align their teams, and put goals into action. Plus managers can more easily identify learning opportunities and work with HR to assign courses.

Align Teams

Regular communication around performance is key to keeping teams engaged. Within Bridge, we offer tools that help you make performance reviews more timely (and less intimidating), alongside 1:1 tracking that makes meetings productive and actionable.

Skills Assessments

Individuals can indicate the skills they want to grow, and the areas in which they're most experienced. These attributes are public across the organization, so that other teams can reach out for help or give valuable skills feedback.

Gauge Sentiment

Author and deliver pulse surveys to give your teams a voice in building your company culture. The results can be used to help managers better engage with their people, allowing you to bring insights and actions to your leadership team.

Amazing Customer Support

At Bridge, our goal is to help you focus on your program, not your platform. Bridge has an in-house customer support team that works 24/7/365 and operates on a 99.97% customer satisfaction rating. You'll also have a dedicated customer success manager to help you achieve your goals
