

LEARNING

Focus on learners first and the results will follow

Did you know training is one of the most effective ways to improve operations, reduce turnover, and ensure that your people and your business are prepared for success? Amid rising costs, fierce competition, and the ongoing “war for talent,” businesses worldwide recognize the value of providing learning and development opportunities.

At the heart of any L&D initiative is the learning management system (LMS), but not every LMS is built the same. With learning methods for all learners and styles, Schoox is the only platform flexible enough to adapt to the unique L&D needs of any organization.

Learning Functionality

- ➔ Blended Learning:
Combine online learning, on-the-job training, and instructor-led training in one platform.
- ➔ Social Learning:
Keep everyone connected with news feeds, group chats, and content sharing features.
- ➔ Microlearning:
Engage people with bite-sized content that’s easy to understand and apply to skills in the workplace.
- ➔ Mobile Learning:
Empower people to learn — wherever work happens—and on the go with the mobile app.
- ➔ Self-Paced Learning:
Let employees learn at their own pace with a platform that tracks progress between devices.

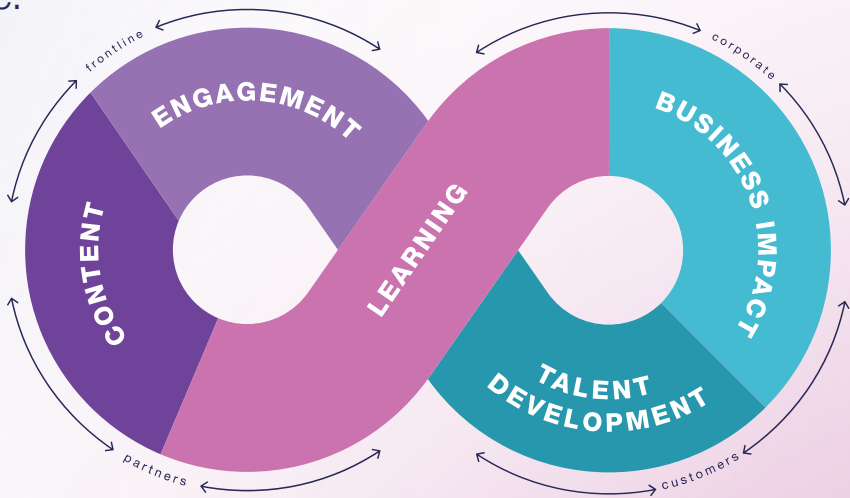

“Schoox is easy to configure and allows us to offer tailored training programs in multiple languages to all of our learner audiences.”
